PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Happy New Year to all our members! I wish everyone a very healthy, prosperous, and safe 2022.

Cancelling our very first meeting of 2022 is not my idea of a good start to the year. In consideration of how rapidly the Covid 19 Omicron variant has spread, and the fact that many of us are a bit tired from all the holiday festivities, I felt that the prudent decision was to cancel the meeting and be optimistic that conditions will improve quickly. Hopefully this is a "one and done" cancellation.

I am still very optimistic about 2022. We have a host of new members on our executive board that are ready and willing to serve, our car show is scheduled for October 2nd at a new, 30+ acre facility, we are hoping to resume our annual Club picnic, and a holiday party planned for the end of the year. The holiday brunch at Mariner's Grill was widely attended, last count was 65 members attending. Thank you: Joyce Baiardi, Rhonda Forristall, Judy Townsend, and Gail Loucks for planning such a fine event. With keeping everyone's safety in mind, we will be resuming as normal a schedule of events as possible in 2022.

One of the greatest challenges that each of us faces as president of CCC is providing events that can be enjoyed by everyone. We are working diligently now on guest speakers for our meetings, especially during the winter months when cars are tucked away safe and sound until spring. We strive to have something for everyone, so if you have an idea, suggestion, or event that you would like to help organize, please don't hesitate to contact any of us with your ideas. Everyone has something to contribute, we rely on your ideas and talent to make the Club what it is.

FUTURE NEWSLETTER ARTICLES

We really need your help in writing articles for the newsletter. You have responded very well with photos of events, but we also need more articles.

Anyone who organizes an event should prepare a write-up for the newsletter after the event or ask someone in the group to do it. You don't have to be concerned with the spelling or grammar - I'll take care of that. That's my job as editor.

I also look forward to any tips you can contribute to the newsletter to help your fellow members. Let's try to continue the "Tips From Members" section of the Vette Gazette, similar to what you see in your car magazines.

Send your inputs directly to my email lgbrowne1109@gmail.com. Do not send them through the Club's group email.

Thank you.

Supporting the Ronald McDonald House

(Below are two brief notes I received from Dick Popilowski following our $5000 donation)

Hi Rick. Thanks so much for inviting me to your festivities today. What a fabulous turnout. Deeply enjoyed the opportunity to meet so many members of the Club. You are doing so many incredible things to help our community and your personal energy and enthusiasm is so refreshing.

Words cannot truly thank you and all the members of the Corvette Club of Connecticut enough for your wonderful check and how you have embraced our charity. We are deeply grateful for your special support of our children and families. Thanks also for giving a warm welcome to Shydaia and Johnetta and their daughter Kenndi. This is why we do what we do each day at the Ronald McDonald House of Connecticut.

Looking forward to keeping in touch.

Here's wishing you and your family a joyous Holiday Season.

*Best always,
Dick*

Hi HO Rick. Thanks for sharing your wonderful newsletter. I am deeply impressed by the breadth and depth of your activities. The toy drive and motorcade was just incredible. I just loved how the state troopers took control of 95 to make your motorcade look easy.

Thank you for your special gift to support the children and families at the Ronald McDonald House of Connecticut.

We are so fortunate to have friends like the members of the Corvette Club of Connecticut who understand the true meaning of giving back.

We are deeply grateful for your support.

Looking forward to a banner 2022.

Best always,
Dick

Joyce Baiardi is working with Yale New Haven Children's Hospital and The Ronald McDonald House of New Haven to collect supplies that are needed by the families that are currently residing at Ronald McDonald House. While their child is being treated at the Children's hospital, these families have responsibilities at RMH to maintain their rooms and provide for some of their meals and they need all of the assistance we can offer while their child is being cared for. Please bring whatever items or gift cards that you can to our Club meetings through March and Joyce will collect all of them and bring them to The Ronald McDonald House.

Thank You for your generosity!

Rick

GM Restarts C8 Assembly After Tornado

General Motors restarted operations at its assembly plant on December 20th, nine days after a violent tornado swept through Kentucky and damaged the facility. GM is not taking any chances and will be scrapping any Corvettes that show damage. This includes not only the cars being assembled on the line at the time of the tornado, but will also include the finished cars parked outside the factory waiting for shipment.

According to Corvette Action Center, approximately 115 Corvettes inside the assembly plant "were damaged beyond repair and are being scrapped. Dealers with customer orders for their cars will have to resubmit the orders into GM's Order Workbench System." Hopefully the affected customers will be pushed to the front of the line and not have to wait a long time for their replacement car.

Tornado-damaged C8's Ready for the Crusher

By Keith Cornett

One of our Facebook friends posted these two photos of the 2022 Corvettes that were allegedly inside the Corvette Assembly Plant at the time when the tornado struck Bowling Green in the early morning hours of December 11th. Because of the potential for contamination and damage to the electronics from the water that got inside the plant and onto these open cars, General Motors made the difficult decision to destroy them with a crusher.

Estimates of 115-122 Corvettes that were lost have abounded and now thanks to our friend Kornel Werner, we have these two photos of those condemned Corvettes.

Very sad to see these going away, but very understandable as GM wants to clear the board and give their customers whose Corvette dreams were delayed by the storm a 2022 Corvette that they can drive worry-free.

The Corvette Assembly Plant will be closed this week for the annual Christmas/New Years shutdown and will reopen on Monday, January 3rd.

Flying with Zora

Zora Arkus-Duntov at the controls of his Rockwell Commander 112A in 1990.

As a very young Corvette enthusiast in the mid-1950's, my early days of reading car magazines meant that I'd scour the pages for anything published about GM's sport car. After all my dad owned a red '56 that I was nuts about.

In many of these article's photos of the prematurely whitehaired Zora Arkus-Duntov would be predominant, Duntov eventually became the chief engineer of the corvette and later affectionately known as "Godfather".

How ironic that it was some thirty-five years later as editor of Vette Magazine, I'd wind up not only meeting Duntov, but becoming friends with he and his wife Elfi. Not only would I see him at the many corvette shows I attended, but also on business trips to Michigan from my then New Jersey based, a meet-up at Zora's house was always on the schedule. He made me feel right at home.

And because I was usually driving the latest corvette press car, Zora could hardly wait to get behind the wheel of whatever one I rolled into his driveway. It mattered not that he was in his eighties at that time, his eyes lit up at the sight of the new 'Vette and I would throw him the keys and off we would go, usually at a rapid clip,

During one of our phone conversations, I mentioned that I was a private pilot and he told me he was, too. In fact, he owned a Rockwell Commander 112A that he kept hangered at Detroit City Airport and suggested we would go flying on his next visit.

And that's what we did.

Zora's retractable gear Rockwell was a beauty, N1105J white and golf with orange trim. The company built 1154 112's between 1972 and 1979 and I'd never been in one. Yet I have to say, that given Zora's advance age, I wouldn't have considered a flight with him had I not been a pilot myself in a dual controlled aircraft.

Of course, Duntov had to go biannual flight reviews and FAA medicals, but air traffic controllers had difficulty understanding his radio calls, his heavy Russian accent and gravelly voice often indecipherable. Since we had matching headsets, he agreed to let me converse with controllers as we headed north on a lovely 1990 summer afternoon to ST. Claire county International Airport near Port Huron, where he wanted to show me an experimental aircraft that he had an interest in, because he wanted to build an fly one.

None of his friends were for the idea, but I had to admire Zora for refusing to let the old man in. He always had a sparkle in his eye, kept the revs up, his mind always moving ahead to new ideas and projects, long after his mandatory retirement from GM at age 65. A few years later, after our flight he sold 05 Joullet and bought an engineless, single-seat ZB-5, with hopes of setting a piston-powered speed record, of all things. These aircraft had a high fatality rate and no one wanted to see him finish the plane nor attempt a flight, and Zora's goal was further pushed back when he was diagnosed with lung cancer in the summer of 1995.

We lost him the following April, and I attended the celebration of his life at the National Corvette Museum where he and Elfi's ashes are interred as part of the Zora Arkus-Duntov exhibit.

His accomplishments were extraordinary, a Le Mans class winner, world records at Pike's Peak, escaping the Nazis and running black market gold during WW II, creating the Ardun cylinder heads, but mostly he's remembered for the remarkable performance pedigree he gave Corvette.

What a gift I had in knowing him and that lovely day in the skies over Michigan, one that I will always remember.

Tornado Relief for the NCM A Note from Randy Flock

Hey Everyone,

There was a glitch in the website over the weekend. The donation link is up and working fine now. If you made a donation this past weekend and didn't receive an e-mail confirmation, then your donation probably didn't go through. Bobbie Jo has received several in the past couple of days and wants to say how thankful she is "You all are awesome. Prayers are appreciated so much". Let us show them know how much the Northeast is thinking of all of them and support the long recovery they face. Kentucky... home of the Corvette and down home friendly folk.

Thanks, Randy

MUSEUM NEWS

National Corvette Museum Spared Any Significant Damage During December Storm, NCM Motorsports Park Receives Damage

During the historic storms on December 11, 2021, the National Corvette Museum was spared any significant damage. All staff - National Corvette Museum, NCM Motorsports Park, and NCM Insurance - were reported as safe.

Fifteen hours after the events, the curatorial team verified that all the artifacts and vehicles in the collection were reported secure. Thirty-six hours after the storm, all individuals with an artifact on loan to the Museum were notified that their loaned items were not in harm's way.

While much of the storm damage was isolated to the Museum's Amphitheater, the Museum was closed over the weekend while crews restored power, cleared roadways of debris, and ensured that our areas were safe once again. We appreciate the calls, e-mails, and check-ins on our staff and institutions.

Our closure was necessary due to the circumstances, but we apologize for any inconvenience you may have encountered and appreciate your patience as we work through this unprecedented situation.

Unfortunately, the NCM Motorsports Park did not have the same fate as the Museum. The Motorsports Park is temporarily unsafe to welcome guests, and all activities are suspended until further notice. Insurance adjusters and crews have begun the assessment and clean-up efforts to help determine our rebuilding plan of the affected areas.

Our hearts are with those across the Commonwealth who these storms have impacted. Anyone who wishes to assist the Bowling Green community can learn to support by visiting bgky.org.
